Old World Meets New Age

TAMPA, FL. (October 14, 2008) – There is a sweet harmony that exists in Diamond Tech’s Travertine-Glass Series, a harmony created by the blending of beautiful natural stone and the highly reflective surface of glass.

Travertine-Glass Series has a soft and delicate look. The travertine stone used in this series is in its most natural stage with small spaces and unfilled crevices. This has a warm, aged look, which will acquire a patina over time. Now imagine this old-world stone combined with the sleek, multi-dimensional look of glass - it breathes spaciousness. The feeling is of peaceful simple beauty with casual formality.

Diamond Tech offers this 1” x 1” tile series on 12” x 12” mesh-backed sheets in 12 color combinations. You will find shades in rich honey, silvery greens, deep mocha browns, smoky purples, and haughty hennas that will compliment some of the hottest design trends today.

Experience the soft earthy hues of travertine stone as it juxtaposes itself against the edgy surface glass tile at www.DTTiles.com
