DIAMOND TECH TILES DEBUT THE SANIBEL COLLECTION BY STUDIO S

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE – Tampa, FL — August 1, 2016 –DIAMOND TECH TILES introduces the beautiful SANIBEL Collection glass tiles. World renowned for its shelling, the beaches of Sanibel Island in South Florida are the inspiration and namesake for this lush line. Designed by Studio S designer, Sylvie Antanasio, the SANIBEL Collection mingles porcelain backed shell with shimmering back-painted 8 mm glossy, textured and matte glass to create a unique look.

“It’s just enough jewelry to give it the ‘oomph’ that would give somebody that designer look at an affordable cost” says Sylvie Antanasio “and that’s really what my designs are about, to enable people to beautify their homes at an affordable price”.

Glass tiles have decorated homes, businesses and structures for ages, and as its appeal broadens, so too does the range of ways you can incorporate the stunning material into your designs. From backsplashes and countertops to shower and tub walls, glass offers a strikingly beautiful alternative to other kinds of tile. Diamond Tech Tiles’ goal is to offer a broad range of gorgeous and exquisite pieces to the masses.

The naturally uneven surface of the shell highlights its prismatic color while textured glass, cast from the subtly stippled nautilus shell, captures and reflects light like the sun shining down on bay waters. Add in matte glass, opalescent like sea glass washed upon the shore and glossy glass, shimmering with a back-painting reminiscent of the sheen on a pearl this line is sure to drum up thoughts of a beachside getaway.

The SANIBEL Collection is durable, easy to maintain and suitable for all vertical surfaces. It is offered in a 3/8” and 5/8” staggered mosaic sheet. In stock and ready to ship, the SANIBEL Collection is available in Ocean Mist, Silver Bay, Conch Shell and Dockside.
